Woo hoo! G+ Android app just updated. Communities now accessible.

Is this for iPhone too or just Android right now?

As I've been looking through all the great images and feedback it got me thinking what would be a really interesting capability (though some might find it giving away their secrets) would be to show side-by-side of the original OOC image to the final. Sometimes I find myself assuming what someone has done and why, the additional context could add a lot to the feedback process, even if it was a post-vote type of thing. Thoughts?
